I, _____, do hereby affirm my desire to become a member of LotFotL Community Farm in 2010. I will strive to participate in the events of the farm to the best of my ability. I will pick up or arrange for pick up of produce from the specified location in a timely fashion. If pick up cannot be arranged, I will give LotFotL notice of a reasonable amount of time. I will give feedback to LotFotL, both positive and negative but hopefully always in a constructive fashion, concerning their products and services. I understand that LotFotL cannot grow produce when the oceans boil over, or a comet strikes the fields, or in other acts-of-god situations. I'm willing to share in the risks of investing in an organic farmer and will not hold Tim Huth or LotFotL legally accountable for extenuating circumstances that may minimize the return on my investment. That said, I am expecting a season's worth of produce in very good condition, of reasonable quantity, and extra good quality as appropriate return on this investment.
